PROGRAM

Karla Goettel, founder of Flood Them with Love, gave a passionate presentation about the continuing effects of the flood and what we as community members can do to help flood sufferers.

Flood Them with Love was founded on Christmas Day 2008 to help flood survivors with immediate needs. Two years after the flood, Flood Them with Love is still finding families financially ruined as they await their buyouts. They are finding tenants who have moved multiple times in search of affordable housing. Many flood-impacted families are also facing job losses, medical and legal issues, substance and domestic abuse and the depression and anxiety that come with hopelessness. They are encountering more and more homeless families.

Flood Them with Love has served over 300 families. They advocate for families with medical aid, legal issues, food and clothing support and help with the confusing, never-ending paperwork.

How can WE help? In addition to cash donations, they need household items for their 6,400 square foot warehouse when families shop for free after an in-home assessment of their needs. They are also looking for volunteers especially secretarial help.

There is little or no funding for individual needs after a disaster. Karla asked us to answer the question "What have I personally done to help a flood survivor?" If we all pitch in, we can make a difference.

- * My week minutes have been re-formatted. Now, all tasks that need volunteers are located in the front, then, will be followed by a summary of our membership's weekly efforts being performed. Still, we are not getting volunteers to accept the tasks that we need to get accomplished for our local non-profit agencies.
- * RSVP's new sponsor is United Way of East Central Iowa. The RSVP advisory board will meet our new sponsor at our June 22nd meeting.
- * WRAP backlog is at about 8 ramps at this time. We still need designers and build leaders. We will train new designers.
- * The Governor Award Ceremonies will be held at College Community Schools this year. RCRV will provide parking attendants as well as ushers. Rockwell Collins will provide the beverage again this year for the reception.
- * Dr Lippisch's ground effect vehicle will now have a home at the Children's Museum in the Coralville Mall.
- * RCRV./REACT's annual Appreciation Event was held at the ball park this year in honor of Les Haerther as his grandson now plays for the Kernals. We had poor participation from RCRV membership.
- * We continue to provide support to SHIIP, SCORE, Spanda, Inc., WRAP, school tutoring, School Lego programs, the REACT Center, the Honor Flight, LCTA, EIOLC, TRIAD, Aging Services, and Heritage Area Agency on Aging.

If you can dream it, we can do it.

Data Base Committee Report- Jim Klein

Read by Jim Green

I will not make the June RCRV Board Meeting since I will be on a weeklong bike ride in Wisconsin.

The database was updated based on the obituaries provided by Wilma Shadle.

I have requested but have not received the new retiree lists for January, February, March, April and May. Cindy Dietz responded to my request with the following message:

RCRV Board of Directors Meeting

June 16, 2010

These minutes were approved at the 8/18/2010 board meeting.

“Some questions have come up regarding privacy issues in releasing this data. I am working on it - trying to find out what exactly is needed in order for us to proceed. I have told our HR group that this process had been previously approved by senior leadership and is still supported by them, so that is not in question. I'm hopeful we can have a timeline for resolution to you very soon.”

If we cannot get the retiree list from Rockwell Collins we will not have any means to get new members for RCRV.

Recruiting/Retention - Barbara Hoffman

Barbara presented a comparison between this year's volunteerism and 2009 volunteerism for the same January- May 31st time period

Year	# of volunteers	# of volunteer hours	# of jobs	# of location of jobs
2010	150	11,531- actual	62	43
2009	190	20,877- modified	67	39

Concern is the 40 less volunteers that have reported this year. Friendly reminder emails will be going out to those who have forgotten/not had time to report their hours this year.

Communications- Chuck Wehage

Chuck reported that he is working on the next newsletter.
