New Retirees Orientation

Informational meetings for new retirees or others interested in becoming active members of RCRV are held at 9 AM on the third Thursday of each month at the REACT Center (927 N. Compton Dr. in Hiawatha). Those of you interested in learning more about RCRV and the many volunteer opportunities we offer are encouraged to attend. ♦

Four Oaks Bridge

The mission of the Four Oaks Bridge is to bring together people of all ages, races and economic backgrounds in an environment of learning, whereby youth, seniors and working adults can connect and contribute through the arts, technology and other learning opportunities.

Several RCRV members have had a very rewarding experience working on various volunteer efforts at Four Oaks. A good example is the current weekly after school geography class being taught by Jack Rector and Vern Jackson.

Four Oaks currently has an urgent need for volunteers to assist students with math and spelling homework from 4 to 6PM daily. If you are available to assist in this very rewarding opportunity please call Carol Kalous at 247-4834. ♦

RCRV Program: Simply the Best!

By Carol Luth of Aging Services

As a nonprofit agency dedicated to serving older adults living independently in their own homes, Aging Services, Inc. relies heavily upon volunteer support to carry out our mission. In fact the tradition of volunteerism is heavily steeped in our agency's history, as we were started by a group of church volunteers in 1969. Today, we have grown to a paid staff of 28 employees and serve over 5000 older adults annually through a variety of programs.

How can 28 individuals serve 5000 older adults? We can't. But, we can through the dedication of an amazing cadre of community volunteers.

The Rockwell Collins Retiree Volunteer Program has provided a tremendous amount of support to our agency over the past four years. Some highlights include:

Wheel Chair Ramps: Through the expertise of many retirees over 15 wheel chair ramps have been designed and installed in the homes of homebound seniors. Because most of our clients are low income, this has provided our agency the ability to install more ramps than what otherwise might have been possible through a contractor. One recipient of a RCRV ramp said, "I thank God every day for this beautiful ramp!"

Home Safety Check Program: At least 50 seniors in our community feel safer because of the efforts of several RCRV members. All are part of the Home Safety Check Program in which trained community volunteers assess an older adult's home for fall, fire, and personal security risks. The Home Safety Check Program is free of charge to anyone 60 years of age and older living in Linn County. Without a doubt, this program helps to save lives because of a corps of dedicated, safety minded volunteers. Anyone interested in learning more is invited to attend our next volunteer training on October 19th from 1-3 PM at the ASI office.

Vision Enhancement Center: Our vision center is dedicated to helping visually impaired individuals improve their quality of life through the use of adaptive optical equipment. An occupational therapist provides assistance in obtaining the proper equipment and appropriate training on how to use it. Ralph Arens has manufactured Plexiglas book covers for the reading machines enabling individuals to read with more ease. Jim Green has lent his carpentry skills to us by installing display and storage units and also led a group of volunteers in the construction of a storage shed at Milestones Adult Day Health Center in Marion.

Data Base Development: Bob Ocken has and continues to provide leadership in developing a data base to map Aging Services Inc. case management clients in the event of an emergency.

Aging Services, Inc. Board of Directors: RCRV membership has provided our agency with an excellent Board of Director member in Jim Spencer. Jim provides leadership in a variety of areas and is a strong advocate for our senior and disabled citizens.

As you have read, the involvement of RCRV is extensive. We would invite others to help us provide quality services to area seniors. Currently, we are in need of volunteers to help transport clients to doctor appointments and trips to grocery stores/food banks. (Mileage is reimbursed.) We are also seeking more Home Safety Check volunteers. And, if you like marketing/retail management, we could use your help in the Vision Enhancement Center with inventory control and merchandise display techniques. For more information on our volunteer program, please contact Carol Luth at 398-3644 or e-mail at cluth@abbe.org. ♦

Member Profile

Esther and Ed Crotty

Esther and Ed Crotty both retired from Rockwell Collins in 1983 after long and productive careers with the company.

The Crottys both grew up and graduated from high school in Laurens, Iowa. They were married in 1948 after Ed had completed his service with the U.S Navy during WW II.

Esther and Ed Crotty

Ed joined Collins Radio in December, 1951 and Esther shortly thereafter in March, 1952. Both began their employment in the Fab shop and both moved to the Printed Circuit Board section when it became a separate entity in 1967. Most of their careers were spent in various aspects of quality control and both worked most of their careers on the night shift which left time for other daytime activities such as raising a family and Ed's part-time thirteen year stint as a school bus driver for the Marion Independent School District.

Both Esther and Ed were career-long members of I.B.E.W. Local 1362. The I.B.E.W. Local 1362 had been organized at Collins Radio on August 3, 1943 after an election held for production and maintenance employees.

The first contract was negotiated later that year which raised base wages to 57 cents per hour and the maximum to $1.65 per hour. Local 1362 grew from 68 members to 448 by 1948 and reached a peak of 6,500 in 1967.

Ed was an active participant in the management of Local 1362 throughout most of his career. He was appointed to the Executive Board in 1961, was elected treasurer in 1963 and spent sixteen years in that position.

The Crottys are long time avid Hawkeye sports fans and have been season ticket holders in many of the sports including forty years of football. Other interests have included bowling, golf and enjoying time with their three daughters, six grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. ♦
